JOB PLACEMENT

A. Over the last three (3) years job placement rates of practical nursing graduates range from 90% to 100% of our students who have gone on to work in the field. The expected levels of achievement for job placement rate is established by faculty is 95% of the graduates will be employed in field within six to twelve months of graduation. Greater than 80% of graduates accept employment in long-term care facilities, while the remaining graduates accept employment in clinics, health-care provider offices and correctional facilities.

Q. Do you offer job placement after graduation?
A. We do not place students for jobs but we are the “go to” place that employers/facilities look to for their nursing staffing needs. Students participate in clinical/preceptorship rotations that will allow for hands-on experience. This provides an opportunity for the student and the facility to get to know one another and is a chance for the student to make a good impression as these are potential employers.

As part of the Student Services Division, the College has a Career Center that offers career planning assistance and job placement services that are available to all students and alumni. To schedule an appointment with a Career Consultant, please call 334-420-4499 or email careers@trenholmstate.edu.
Q. Will I be able to find a LPN/RN job after graduation?
A. Job opportunities for nurses are expected to be good because of employment growth and the need to replace workers who retire over the coming decade. The demand for healthcare services will increase because of the aging population, given that older people typically have more medical problems than younger people. Nurses also will be needed to educate and care for patients with various chronic conditions, such as arthritis, dementia, diabetes, and obesity.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the median salary for a practical nurse was $22.23 per hour or $46,240 per year. In addition, employment of licensed practical and licensed vocational nurses is projected to grow 11 percent from 2018 to 2028, much faster than the average for all occupations. https://www.bls.gov/ooh/healthcare/licensed-practical-and-licensed-vocational-nurses.htm

In addition, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that jobs for RN's the 2018 median pay was $34.48 per hour or $71,730 per year. The employment of registered nurses is projected to grow 12 percent from 2018 to 2028. Currently, there is a nursing shortage of about 100,000 nurses and this could grow to eight times that size by 2020. WORK

Q. I have a job that requires I work during the day. Can I continue that job and still enter this program?
A. We do not offer an evening, weekend, or online program at this time. The Nursing program is a full-time day program which requires a student to be present approximately 30-40 hours during the week. You should prepare to devote Monday – Friday 8 hour days to the program. This does not include study time at home. Typically at least 3-4 hours of study time should be devoted daily for each nursing class to ensure progression. Practice of new skills in the nursing lab is essential for success.

Q. Can I continue to work while I am in the program?
A. We have, and have had, numerous students work while in the program but we do not advise that you work. Since the Nursing program is a full-time, 30-40 per week commitment, some students find it difficult to balance course load, work load, and study time. Your schedule will be rigorous while in the program with various classwork and clinicals while maintaining the required 75 average in all classes. You should prepare to devote Monday – Friday 8 hour days to the program. This does not include study time at home. Research has shown when students devote daily study including doing practice exam questions, they have a greater opportunity of progressing in a nursing curriculum. Due to the massive amount of required reading, students most often find a transition from General Studies to nursing difficult. In addition, testing in a nursing program becomes more application-based and not just knowledge/comprehension based.
